P.S. I have a special message for the parents of our future teen travelers. As your teenager gets ready to forge their own path in this world, GLA is here to help them become a leader, no matter what path they take. At Global Leadership Adventures, we believe there is more than one way to be a leader. So whether the teen in your family is a bold trailblazer, or an introvert with a unique perspective to share with the world, a service-learning program can be that first big step in shaping their own vision for the future, all with the guidance of experienced GLA Mentors.

As a fellow parent, I know it can be difficult to let your child travel without you. But we're here for your teen every step of the way, and I can personally attest the profound positive impact an experience like this can have on a young traveler. As a parent, you are also a member of the GLA family once your student enrolls, and we'll keep you apprised of their adventure every step of the way! Give us a call anytime and we'll walk you through the ropes of the GLA experience.

ABOUT GLA

Our story begins with GLA Founder Fred Swaniker in 2003. Fred, a Ghana native, TED fellow and entrepreneur from Stanford University, envisioned a high school designed to develop Africa's future leaders regardless of the student's income or background. Fred believed that the key to success was not leading young people along a set path, but allowing them to define their own path.

After joining forces with Chris Bradford and Peter Mombaur, Fred's former classmate and mentor, Fred's vision was brought to life with the establishment of the African Leadership Academy, a revolutionary pan-African, non-profit high school in Johannesburg. ALA's success was immediate and profound. When surrounded by a diverse group of peers and immersed in leadership development, students began to truly believe they held the power to change the world around them.

As a way to expand the reach of ALA's successful curriculum, Fred, Chris and Peter created a summer program, this time welcoming students from around the world and planting the seeds for Global Leadership Adventures.

Global Leadership Adventures grew into a global team in 2006 with the expertise of Andrew Motiwalla, who joined the team as a Returned Peace Corps Volunteer, with a background in operating global service-learning projects and developing experiential education programs. Values central to the Corps – immersive experience, sustainability and working side-by-side with local communities – were infused into GLA's program design early on and continue to be building blocks for the dozens of programs our organization operates worldwide.

Since its founding in 2004, Global Leadership Adventures has enrolled more than 25,000 teens globally and helped them develop into young leaders. Many alumni have gone on to attend the top universities in the United States and around the world, found international nonprofit organizations inspired by their GLA service project, and shape their future careers as doctors, engineers, entrepreneurs and beyond.

Fred Swaniker was honored as a pioneer by Time in its annual list of 100 Most Influential People of 2019. This was in recognition for his continued work with ALA, alongside the foundation of the African Leadership University and the African Leadership Network.

LEADERSHIP & INTENTIONAL PROGRAM DESIGN

GLA travel programs create ambitious, ethical leaders.

At GLA, we believe leaders are made, not born: leadership is a life skill that can, and should, be developed. Leadership is woven throughout all elements of the program.

From role play style to exploration to getting students out of their comfort zone and into leadership roles within the group, GLA intentionally weaves this approach into the daily experience on our travel programs.

Every site visit, cultural workshop and community service project is an opportunity to put these leadership skills into action. Our holistic approach to leadership and learning creates a lifelong impact for students.

We encourage students to recognize that we all have the power to be incredible forces for good, and we give students permission to exercise their leadership potential intelligently and compassionately. We believe that framing the program experience and various daily activities around leadership helps create personal development and growth opportunities for students to dig deep into their vision and purpose, as well as their knowledge of themselves and the wider world.

Leadership Curriculum & Philosophy

A principal focus at GLA is personal growth and leadership - it's in our name, after all! At Global Leadership Adventures, it is our founding principle that leaders are made and not born. We believe leadership isn't something exclusive to Type A personalities or extroverts; quiet types and introverts can be leaders, too. Leadership is a skill that can be learned and refined.

Our young leaders-in-training will work with their Mentors and peers to hone their own unique leadership style.

Leadership is embedded in all of our programs, across all spectrums, to inspire students to continue to "be the change they wish to see in the world."

The GLA Leadership Curriculum™ is designed to engage students on all levels and is tailored to each unique group. The curriculum utilizes critically reflective journaling and intentional Mentor-facilitated discussion to help students digest and process daily experiences through the lens of leadership.

We celebrate examples of outstanding leaders we encounter in the community. Guest speakers bring concepts to life and demonstrate the full spectrum of leadership styles and approaches.

Learn to Lead “The GLA Way”

The GLA Leadership Curriculum™ consists of the following five branches that are brought to life on every program through engaging discussions, role plays and interactive activities tailored to each program.

Testimonials on Leadership

"I hoped my daughter would experience a new culture, gain experience and an understanding of global challenges. The experience most notably enhanced my daughter's leadership abilities. Yes, I believe my daughter's experiences with GLA opened her heart and mind. My student was intellectually and emotionally energized by her experience traveling with GLA and support from the sensitive program leaders and mentors. Her experiences with GLA fostered a passion for exploring, helping and becoming immersed in other cultures."

Julia K, mother of GLA alumna

"I didn't really know what to expect when going on my GLA trip. But I came back much more motivated and excited than when I had left. That's what is special about the GLA program. You experience social, environmental and economic problems firsthand, and return enlightened with a sense of empowerment for how to address issues back home."

Oliver O, GLA alumnus

"This trip was my daughter's idea. She wanted to gain a better perspective of how others live. I thought it would give her a better appreciation of what she has. The trip gave her so much more. She now looks for community service opportunities in our area to get involved in. It has also helped shape what she wants to go to college for. I could not recommend this program more highly. There is no price tag to put on what she has learned."

Violet K, mother of GLA alumna

"For so long I thought my life's ambition was in film. But after my service trip with GLA, I realized it was in the environment and human rights. There is no gift like the gift of an epiphany. While there I saw things I had never seen before. When I came home, I was excited to change lives in my own community. Seeing how good I have it really propelled me to ensure others have the same opportunities as me."

LOCAL PARTNERS

Partnerships pave the path to sustainable development.

At GLA, we recognize that working with local partners is a fundamental part of sustainable development, effective community service and responsible travel. Our partners help to bring the community's local culture to life, providing the critical context only a resident could provide, and granting our students locals-only access to off-the-beaten-path experiences.

Partnerships help deliver authentic experiences.

GLA's local partners also play a much larger role than simply being a piece of our program design. They are a core part of our global family, and many have been working with us for years. Students interact with and learn from partners, who range from founders of NGOs to small business owners, local educators, host families and area experts. Whether in remote or city destinations, based relatively close to home or in the far reaches of the farthest continents, our partners provide unique experiences that we could not access on our own.

Our local partners are the key to making our programs as immersive and authentic as possible. Whether they're hosting students overseas or in the United States, our local partners know the communities in which we operate inside and out.

EXPERT STAFF

GLA's program staff are more than chaperones or camp counselors.

They're passionate educators and teen experts. GLA works hard to hire knowledgeable, responsible, accomplished and FUN individuals; we know that having the right Program Directors and Mentors makes all the difference in creating a comfortable, safe and inclusive learning environment for teens.

Students are led by Program Directors and Mentors.

They have in-depth professional experience working experientially with youth and hold college or graduate degrees. They are confident travelers with certifications for the locations and activities they will oversee. More than half of our staff return each season to work with GLA again. Some program staff have even served in the Peace Corps! Others bring experiences studying at renowned educational institutions or working in influential global organizations. Whatever their background, they bring these skills and experiences to the table on behalf of our students, and are particularly adept at facilitating cross-cultural exchange. Our staff elevate a program from a mere trip to an unforgettable, life-changing journey.

Our program staff are more than just supervision for our students! They have years of experience working with teens in destinations around the globe. Our staff help to connect the dots of the student's experience to their personal leadership style.

FULL-SERVICE PARENT SUPPORT

We understand it can be challenging to leave your child in the care of others, whether they're a teen or young adult. So we take equal care in providing superior support to every parent before, during and after the program.

Full Pre-Departure Support

Once you've enrolled in one of our programs, the GLA team is at your disposal to provide full support for all your preparations:

- Where and how to book a flight

- Full access to the online GLA Travel Portal: connect with other families who have students on your program, and have all pre-departure information at your fingertips

In-Country Support and Updates

During the program, we are your direct link, 24 hours a day:

- We provide a 24-hour emergency hotline when programs are running
- All students are required to call home upon arrival at their destination
- Our team will make you aware of any emergencies or major schedule changes
- We are able to relay urgent messages between students and parents via on-site staff
- We provide evacuation and secondary medical insurance during the program for all students traveling internationally outside the U.S.
- We periodically update program blogs with photos and accounts of student experiences in action

Post-Program Follow-Up

After the program, our staff follows up with every family to:

- Ensure we've provided the best possible service to you and your family
- Discuss continued alumni engagement and opportunities

5-POINT SAFETY SYSTEM™

Safety is our first priority. While we believe in the transformative power of stepping outside comfort zones, we remain invested in managing the risks of doing so. We've carefully crafted and continue to enforce our 5-Point Safety System™, a set of rigorous standards that support the safety, health and well-being of students on every program.

GLA Home Base: Safe & Secure Lodging

Utmost care is taken to provide safe and secure lodging. Accommodations vary based on location, but all include exclusive spaces reserved for GLA students and staff. It's our home away from home, a place to relax, the gathering place for meals and sanctuary for reflection, team building and leadership after active days. For a description of Home Base types, see the following page. See page 17 for more details on Home Base types.

Caring Supervision & Expert Local Knowledge

GLA policy is for no student to ever be by themselves at any point in time outside the established Home Base. Students may be with staff members, in groups or assigned to a buddy. Our average student-to-staff ratio on our travel programs is a maximum 6:1. Our local partners and on-site staff have intimate knowledge of the host community and region, are familiar with the area's medical facilities and are uniquely equipped to handle itinerary adjustments and emergencies.

Safe Transportation

From the moment students arrive, they are greeted by GLA staff and transported to Home Base in approved transportation by experienced and licensed drivers. In the case of a flight delay, staff will wait for their arrival or return to collect the student at the updated arrival time. Transportation between Home Base(s) and activities is always in GLA-approved vehicles or via the mode of transport most appropriate for each specific location. For example, in Europe or the United States, students may take public transport such as commuter buses or trains in small groups supervised by a staff member; in other countries and regions where public transport is not as reliable, we will use GLA-approved vehicles such as buses or vans. In some cases, a taxi or rideshare may be used, but only with staff in accompaniment.

Healthy Meals & Pure Water

Meals are prepared fresh daily by Home Base staff or vetted restaurants, and include a healthy mix of grains, protein, fruit and vegetables. Students will enjoy a mix of local cuisine and common staples.

24/7 Support & Emergency Response

GLA provides 24/7 support and a hotline while programs are in session. While incredibly rare in occurrence, GLA has a plan in place for all types of emergencies and situations that could arise. We proactively manage risk by identifying proper health and support facilities within the vicinity of our programs. We provide secondary medical and evacuation insurance to all students traveling internationally outside the United States, and professional medical support is also available to our teams 24/7 should specialized guidance be needed.

HOME BASE LODGING

Safety is our top priority, and we provide lodging that's out of the ordinary.

On a GLA adventure, you might stay in a zen-like ecolodge tucked away in the lush Caribbean jungle, a traditional Lapa, or dorm-style rooms in a classic campus setting. In this catalog, each program page will indicate a general idea of the type of lodging you can expect to experience.

Many programs include an overnight stay away from the main Home Base or split time between two or more Home Base locations.

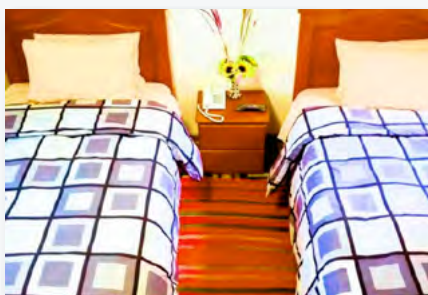

EXCLUSIVE HOTEL BLOCK

These may resemble Western hotels back home, with multiple stories and a reception desk at the entrance, or smaller, locally-owned properties where we stay in an exclusive floor or wing.

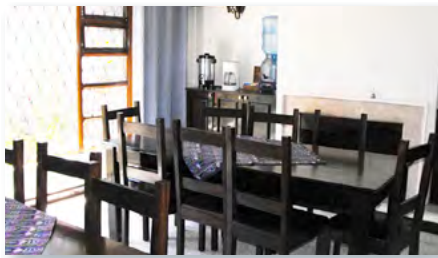

RUSTIC VILLAS

Detached, well-appointed structures that offer comfortable living with plenty of open space, amenities and landscaping. The group has access to shared eating areas and common space.

COZY GUESTHOUSE

Modest, unique properties in a cozy setting where students may interact with their host, eat together and share common areas.

ENCLOSED COMPOUND

Several buildings in a gated enclosure, often including detached guest quarters, a separate kitchen, dining area, multi-purpose facilities and host residences in an intimate space.

TRADITIONAL BUNGALOWS

Detached structures, often featuring open-air construction and in remote locations close to nature and the local culture.

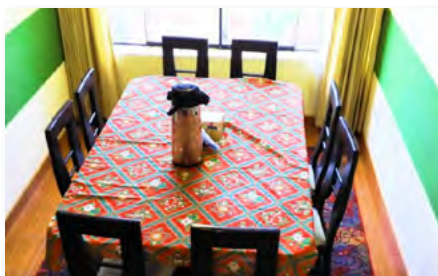

ECOLODGE

Remote residences located in natural environments, with hosts who place an emphasis on environmental responsibility and harmony with local flora and fauna.

DORM-STYLE

Classic university-style dorm rooms on a college-like campus, with variations depending on the location. May feature bunk beds, common spaces and shared amenities.

BED & BREAKFAST

Home-like, quaint accommodations with a cozy atmosphere, with comfy beds and inviting common spaces.

CAMPING

Sleep overnight in tents, possibly changing locations depending on your itinerary. Expect sleeping bags, campfires, simple campsite amenities and ample time outdoors.

COSTA RICA: Sea Turtle Initiative™

Become a conservationist for Costa Rica's sea turtles as you explore the unspoiled coast.

OVERVIEW

On this program you will learn about many of the threats sea turtles face: boat traffic, climate change, accidental catch by industrial fisheries and pollution in their habitats. The population has declined by 90% since 1980. You'll live and work on the rural Caribbean coast, assisting a turtle conservation organization with critical efforts to preserve the natural areas where this endangered species lives. Ensuring that the turtle population will thrive for generations depends largely on our ability to educate the local community and protect the places where turtles nest. With the right timing and luck, you might be rewarded with the sight of turtles hatching.

SPOTLIGHT ON COMMUNITY SERVICE

Each year, leatherback and green turtles come to Costa Rica's beaches to lay their eggs. Poachers steal the turtles and their eggs to sell in underground markets for profit. Although this practice is illegal in Costa Rica it is hard to enforce without the help of the local community's participation. You'll be assisting on night patrols with a local nonprofit and anti-poaching organization. Prepare yourself for long walks on the beach guided by the moonlight searching for turtle tracks and nesting turtles. You'll also participate in beach cleanups, survey nesting sites and raise community awareness.

SAMPLE ITINERARY: DAILY BREAKDOWN

Actual schedule of activities will vary by program session. The information detailed here is typical for what you can expect to experience; however, service work and activities vary depending upon the needs of our local community partners, various celebrations and customs, as well as the weather and specific needs of the student group.

DAY 1: GETTING ORIENTED

Fly into San José, where GLA staff will be there to greet you! We'll drive to the city of Alajuela, only a short distance away, where our group will meet and spend our first night in Costa Rica.

DAY 2: ALAJUELA TO HOME BASE

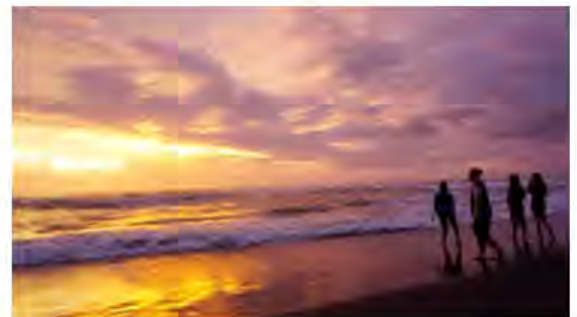

Alajuela to Home Base: The second morning, get ready to depart Alajuela for a 6-hour drive to Home Base in Parismina, a peaceful village located on the Caribbean coast of Costa Rica. Parismina is quite remote, accessible only by boat or plane, so we'll be taking to the waters at the end of our journey to finally reach Home Base. The beach is known for being the prime location for four species of sea turtles to nest. Upon arrival at Home Base, we'll get a warm welcome from local staff and settle down into our rooms.

DAY 3: FIRST NIGHT PATROL!

Get excited for your first night patrol! In the morning we'll have an eye-opening orientation and talk on turtle conservation, given by our local partner VerdiAzul, a community-based conservation organization dedicated to protecting sea turtles and the environment.

In the evening, we'll split into small groups and begin to walk the beach, careful to not disturb nesting turtles. In the event of encountering a nesting turtle, we'll guard the surroundings and collect eggs for safekeeping at the hatchery, where they'll undergo their natural development cycle.

Please note: Sea turtle nesting on the beaches of Costa Rica is a natural phenomenon that occurs annually throughout the spring and summer months. While every opportunity is given to maximize the chances for GLA students to witness this phenomenon in person, we unfortunately cannot control or predict the exact time a turtle will emerge to nest, and therefore we cannot guarantee that students on any specific session will see a turtle in person. However, the service work students do on this program has a direct and lasting impact on local sea turtle conservation efforts.

DAY 4: ORGANIC FARM VISIT

We'll visit an organic farm and learn the way of life for cacao and sugarcane farmers, and we'll get to sample from the fruit trees of the season. We'll also participate in beach cleanups near Home Base. Keeping the beaches primed for turtle nesting is crucial to preserving their natural cycles.

In the evening, split into small groups and begin to walk the beach, careful to not disturb nesting turtles. In the event of encountering a nesting turtle, guard the surroundings and collect eggs for safekeeping at the hatchery, where they'll undergo their natural development cycle out of harm's way.

DAY 5: WHITEWATER RAFTING & SECOND NIGHT PATROL

Today we will raft in one of the top rivers for whitewater rafting. We'll make and post signs that notify the public of protected nesting areas before beginning another night of patrolling the beach with local volunteers.

DAY 6: COMMUNITY SERVICE: BEACH CLEANUP

In addition to our work with the sea turtles, we'll have time to interact with the community and experience the unique culture on this coast of the Caribbean. We'll play a pickup game or two with the locals, and then do a second round of beach cleanup to maintain the turtle nesting areas.

DAY 7: VISIT A LOCAL SCHOOL

One of the ways the staff and founders of ASTOP, our community service partner, find effective for inspiring the community to eradicate poaching is to speak at schools. We'll visit a local school and talk to the young students about what ASTOP and our first two patrol experiences have taught us: the importance of preserving natural habitats, respecting wildlife and pursuing a viable alternative economy to poaching in the village. In the evening, we'll take a fun dance class at Home Base and then begin our third evening of night patrol, corralling as many eggs into the guarded hatchery as we can.

DAY 8: SERVICE & CULTURE

After our final night of patrolling, we'll have a welcome rest day. Take a boat tour in the mangroves and try to spot Costa Rican wildlife! At Home Base, we'll have a cooking class, learning from our local hosts to make some of the delicious specialties of Caribbean cuisine. We'll give one last effort to clean the beach, preparing it for safe turtle nesting.

DAY 9: ZIPLINE ADVENTURE

Get ready to depart Home Base for Alajuela. On the way, we'll stop to go on a beautiful zipline tour of Costa Rica's lush, unspoiled forests in Braulio Carrillo National Park. We'll spend this final night in Alajuela before departure.

DAY 10: DEPARTURE

It's time to say goodbye—or hopefully, see you later!—to our new friends and to Costa Rica. At the San José airport, the GLA team will help you check in for your flight and see you off on your return flight home.

PROGRAM THEMES

Program themes provide students like you an opportunity to deep-dive a topic of interest, which may relate to your future career path, area of study, or personal passion and curiosity.

Internship Component Breakdown

Expect the Unexpected

"Boarding the plane, I had no idea what to expect. I never knew that the three weeks I would spend on my GLA program would be the most rewarding, memorable and happy days of my life. I created lifelong friendships and was able to utilize the time I had to challenge myself to grow in every sense. The trip completely inspired me in the best way possible, and I took everything I gained from it back home with me."

-CLARA | GLA DOMINICAN REPUBLIC STUDENT

The best way to approach a GLA travel program, or any experiential travel opportunity, is to expect the unexpected. Unlike a day at a theme park or on a cruise ship, your GLA experience may not match a lovingly crafted itinerary or hour-by-hour schedule. Activities change. Weather surprises. New community needs and availability arise and projects are adapted to reflect them. Don't let that make you anxious! In fact, at GLA we believe an unexpected change in plans makes our programs abroad among the most rewarding travel experiences you'll ever have.

Why? Because no two sessions of your chosen program, even those happening during the same season or year, are exactly alike. One student group might get lucky and spot sharks while snorkeling in the Galapagos, while another group in the USA may meet an influential local leader if her schedule suddenly clears up out of the blue. Meanwhile, sometimes a flight is delayed or rescheduled, weather patterns change and a thunderstorm moves in during the planned time for an outdoor activity, or an unexpected traffic jam causes a visiting speaker to miss their planned arrival window. In fact, any number of unexpected changes may happen. While we do our best to reschedule missed plans, in some cases we are not able to do so.

Not to worry! GLA's model means we have experts on the ground and at headquarters working hard year-round to make sure any change in plans is transformed from a missed activity into a wonderful opportunity to experience something new, different or eye-opening for all of our students.

Our Expectations

BE PRESENT

Our mission at GLA is “to inspire the next generation to realize their potential to transform the world and their role in it.” To that end, we expect GLA students to maintain high standards of personal behavior and to be open-minded. When traveling, the cultures you encounter may be different, sometimes shockingly so. GLA will challenge students as they are expected to work hard and be present physically and mentally for all activities. We also ask students to take a step back from regular use of technology on our travel programs - particularly their smartphones - so as to maximize their engagement with the program and their fellow participants. Students may get hot, dirty and bug-bitten along the way, but their contribution will transform the community. The goal is for each student to complete their program having had a life-changing experience.

NO TOLERANCE

Our Travel Programs for ages 14 - 18 have a no tolerance policy towards drugs, alcohol, tobacco and disruptive behavior. Those who violate or are suspected of violating this policy will be immediately dismissed from the program at the sole discretion of GLA staff.

COMMUNITY-LED EXPERIENCES

GLA makes every effort to offer well-thought-out programs crafted for teens and young adults. Detailed planning and exhaustive communications with partners are indispensable parts of our program development process. Occasionally, however, service and activities are adjusted from session to session, due to weather, changing needs of our local community partners and various cultural celebrations and customs. We expect participants to be open-minded and flexible, willing to embrace the experience when plans change. GLA makes every effort to communicate adjustments to students and families with advance notice. We expect you to be open-minded and flexible.

MENTORSHIP

GLA is not a therapy program. Our staff are highly skilled, professional, caring and fun, but they are not licensed therapists. GLA programs can be physically and emotionally demanding - applicants should be in good physical and mental health, as well as meet our Essential Eligibility Criteria, or EEC.

COVID-19: Risk Management & Precautions

Commitment to Health and Safety for All

The safety of students, staff, and local communities remains our highest priority and all program operations will be done carefully and intentionally. Global Leadership Adventures is committed to program operations in a safe, responsible and sustainable way.

We have constructed our guidelines and recommendations from guidance from the CDC and WHO, as well as our Medical Director. In each destination GLA follows guidelines as mandated by local governments.

Additionally, we meet bi-weekly with other industry providers to collaborate and ensure our policies remain in line with industry standards. Policies are developed and continuously reviewed to ensure every element of our operations are thoroughly assessed prior to and during any program experience. Here are a few of our best-in-class standards in place for all departures:

✓ Extensive Staff Training

We have developed extensive Covid-19 health and safety guidelines which outlines every element of our pre, during, and post program processes. All staff will go through a thorough Covid-19 Health and Safety Training prior to programming, and will be heavily supported by our Risk Management team while programs are running to ensure compliance.

✓ Complying with Local Regulations and Recommendations

First and foremost, we will comply with all local regulations and inform all travelers of additional regulations prior to departure.

✓ Preventive Planning

Itineraries will be adjusted to provide students with the safest experience within our control at the time of operation. Programs with traditionally high levels of community interaction may be updated to limit or remove community contact all together. These adjustments will be done to protect both the community and the group. GLA will inform families of the expected itinerary prior to the program start date and as changes necessitate.

Check out our Country & Program Session Status Boards for the latest updates on the likelihood of program operations in particular destinations:
experiencegl.com/safety/status

✓ Thorough Risk Assessments

Prior to travel, every location will go through a thorough risk assessment to ensure it is within our standards for operation during the time of Covid-19. We will assess local case counts and transmission rates, the status of the local community which we plan to visit, as well as our abilities to uphold our stringent safety standards for the duration of the program.

✓ Group Commitment to Safety

The overall health of the group is dependent on each person's commitment to their personal health and well being before and during the program. In 2023, though strongly advised, it is not required for students to be fully vaccinated. 10 days prior to departure, we ask that all students refrain from large group gatherings, followed by a negative Covid-19 rapid antigen test 24 hours before coming on the program. This ensures the entire group is starting out on the right foot.

✓ Health Checks

Our staff will meet with students individually at the beginning of the program to discuss their health and well-being. Daily health checks will take place throughout the program to ensure that no one in the group is showing symptoms of fever or any other illness. Students will also be instructed to inform staff of any other symptoms, should they arise.

✓ Enhanced Hygiene, Sanitation & Cleaning

We will operate as a Travel Pod when in the community, which means the entire group will wear masks when outside of the Home Base -- in the local community for service or other activities -- and practice physical distancing when a distance of 6 feet is not able to be maintained outdoors and any time indoors. Sanitizer and/or hand soap will be made available before and after activities and all meals.

✓ Constant Evolution

We are committed to making informed decisions that make the health and safety of all parties a priority. We give you our promise that we will remain transparent and honest in our communication to you as changes arise. In return, we ask for your flexibility and trust that any adjustments we make to our policies or the program experience is rooted in our responsibility to keep you and our local communities as safe as possible as we embark back into the world together.
